

Mobius Awards of Environmental Excellence

Rules

The Mobius Awards of Environmental Excellence are coordinated and administered by Divert NS. The nomination period begins in June and closes on August 29, 2025. Nominees can enter in more than one category. The award recipients will be announced in the fall of 2025 at Divert NS' annual Mobius Gala event.

How to Nominate

To nominate yourself or another individual or organization, you must visit the Mobius Awards website at <https://divertns.ca/mobius-awards> and complete a nomination form before the closing date on August 29, 2025.

Eligibility

The awards are open to individuals who reside in Nova Scotia and organizations that are currently active in Nova Scotia (i.e. conducting business in Nova Scotia for at least one year, up to and including the date of submission). Nominees must consent to the nomination and must not be the recipient of a Mobius Award for the same waste diversion activities in the last three years. Nominations must be based on current activities or initiatives occurring in Nova Scotia (for example, activities that are ongoing as of the date of submission or initiatives/programs/events that occurred during the last year).

Current Board Members and employees of Divert NS, their immediate family members, and those domiciled with them are not eligible for a Mobius Award.

The Awards

There are seven award categories focused on exceptional recycling and waste diversion activities and results. Waste diversion refers to refusing, recycling, reducing, reusing or composting materials instead of sending them to landfill for disposal.

- Small Business of the Year: Private sector business or organization (less than 100 employees) that goes above and beyond to implement practices to reduce waste and recycle on a daily basis.
- Large Business of the Year: Private sector business or organization (more than 100 employees) that goes above and beyond to implement practices to reduce waste and recycle on a daily basis.
- Innovator of the Year: Individual or organization that has developed and/or implemented a product or service from material that otherwise would go to landfill or has developed a more efficient approach for an existing process to reduce waste, recycle and/or divert waste.
- Grassroots Project of the Year: Local community group or individual that has led a small-scale project or event engaging their community or neighbourhood in waste reduction, reuse, or recycling.
- Community Impact: Regional or provincial organization or group that has delivered a large-scale initiative advancing waste reduction, reuse, or recycling across communities.

- Emerging Environmental Leader: Rising environmental champion (age 30 or under) who goes above and beyond to encourage waste reduction and recycling among their peers, at school or work, in their community or with other Nova Scotians.
- Hall of Fame: Individual with a demonstrated record of ongoing commitment to our environment; leadership in reducing waste and recycling; and diverting waste from landfill.

Awards will be presented in a category only if a nomination merits an award. All decisions of the judges are final.
